

The second day of the School 2016 begun with the lecture of Darko Kovačević, Researcher of the Center for Maritime archeology and underwater cultural heritage University of Alexandria in Egypt. During the interesting speech he presented the basis of underwater archeology, its development and used techniques, as well as the most important achievements in this field. After that Milivoj Stojanović, BIPON Cluster presented the pilot project Africa – BIPOM SAZM agro-industrial incubator for vegetable farming in the municipality of Tulamela in Limpopo province in the Republic of South Africa which is supported by Autonomous Province of Vojvodina.

During the second day of school assistant professor Aleksej Kišjuhas, PhD from the Department of Sociology, Faculty of Philosophy University of Novi Sad made the presentation about the Danube identity. He talked about some common sociological, cultural and economic elements which connect countries of the Danube Region. Aleksandra Smirnov Brikić, PhD from the Department of History, Faculty of Philosophy University of Novi Sad talked about the history of the Danube Region. The title of her presentation was “The Christian Communities of Late Roman Pannonia”.

The official program of the second day of School was finished with the presentation of Nikola Božić, Director of the Petnica Fund. He talked about the importance of this Institution and its role of the incitement of work with young and talented people. After that all participants were divided into five groups and begun their work on the projects based on the different topics important for the Danube Region. The group work will be continued until the end of the School.

During the evening of the second day of school it was organized the intercultural event, when all participants presented the country from which they come through specific customs, food, drinks and the other characteristics.